

Teachers from Tonkla School Visit Our Sapporo Schools

Four teachers from Tonkla School visited Sapporo schools (Kitago Ayumi Kindergarten, Miyanomori Maple Nursery School, Nishimachi Satsuki Nursery School, and Taihei Azusa Nursery School) on Monday, October 7 and Tuesday, October 8 for observation and training.

The children said, “I want to teach Japanese!” “I want to learn about Thai animals!” They were looking forward to this day and enjoyed practicing Thai greetings. This was a very valuable experience for the children.

* Welcome ceremony

The teachers really like the song “No-no-no noseru” and will incorporate it into their activities at Tonkla School.

The 4- and 5-year-old children held a welcome ceremony. The children thought up and prepared the content of the ceremony by themselves. The teachers of Tonkla School were very pleased with the presents of cosmos leis, songs, and dance routines, saying, “We are so happy that the children worked so hard to prepare for the ceremony.”

The teachers participated in a rhythmic activity. They enjoyed moving their bodies to the piano and using finger movements with song “Here he comes, Kaminaridon” together. It was the first time for the Tonkla School teachers to do this type of rhythmic activity and they enjoyed it very much.

* Undo Asobi (Physical activities)

 The theme of the day's Undo Asobi was to move their bodies while using towels. It was impressive to see the children cooperating with teachers in the race. The tail catching game at the end of the day was very exciting, with both the children and the teachers competing with each other!

 Idea exchange

During idea exchange, we were able to hear the introduction of Tonkla School, impressions of visiting our schools, and exchange ideas by asking questions. Even though we are from different countries and cultures, we share the same desire to put children first. We were able to talk more deeply about what we are doing to achieve this goal than in the previous exchange in Thailand, providing an opportunity for everyone to learn a great deal. One of the comments for the observation was, "It is very nice that both adults and children seem happy here."

Programming

The teachers were amazed to see the children's work. They also enjoyed the experience!

 Extra Edition

Tasty school lunches and homemade snacks were well-received.

The two-day visit and training were very valuable experiences for both the children and teachers. Both the children and the teachers gained many insights and discoveries through their interactions with the teachers from Tonkla School. We were able to actively engage in international exchange, communicating with each other using gestures and English vocabulary, and experiencing each other's unique perspectives.

The information obtained from the relationships and exchanges of ideas with the teachers from Tonkla School will be shared among the corporation's staff and teachers, and we will continue to strive to deliver the highest quality of education to our children throughout our interactions together.
